

GALE REFERENCE COMPLETE

Empowering users at all academic levels, Gale Reference Complete provides subscription access to the largest package of primary and secondary sources available to libraries today.

EMPOWER RESEARCH

Knowledge is power, and the act of researching and learning is empowering.

Access to knowledge offers researchers and learners an opportunity to discover the motivation and inspiration vital to making a positive contribution in not only their own lives, but the rest of the world. That's why Gale provides libraries with original and curated content, as well as the modern research tools that are crucial in connecting libraries to end-users, and end-users to libraries.

Together, with libraries around the world, we look to empower the discovery of knowledge and insights by all people, for all purposes.

EMPOWER INSIGHT

From an undergraduate trying to Google their way through their first research paper to a Ph.D. candidate scouring primary source material to glean a key piece of insight, the users of Gale products are all learners looking to gain insight through research. Gale's content is focused on educational outcomes, not just mass aggregation. Our original, uniquely sourced content is expertly curated in alignment with popular and emerging curricula and research topics. Gale's contemporary and progressive learning resources and primary source collections help librarians connect educators and researchers with the knowledge essential to achieving exceptional learning outcomes.

EMPOWER ACCESS

The Gale mission is to develop technology that fosters greater utility and access. Our products are thoughtfully designed and optimized to the study and research work flow of academic students across the spectrum. Gale is committed to supporting the integration of content into the classroom and enabling collaboration between librarians and faculty. Our innovative technology allows researchers to readily access content and uncover new research insights. With our technology, academic librarians can give learners access to knowledge that plays an essential role in their learning outcomes.

EMPOWER OUTCOMES

At Gale, we measure our success by learning outcomes. Gale cultivates a culture of excellence and innovation and builds on a history of advancing the research process through a deeper understanding of customer—and user—needs. As a Cengage company, Gale is uniquely positioned to bridge the librarian-faculty gap and help drive the value of the library for institutions, faculty, and students. We believe by developing tools that connect libraries to end-users and end-users to libraries that we can help boost student achievement and learning outcomes.

EMPOWERING THE STUDENT JOURNEY

First Year

GVRL

I'm trying to break out of the habit of using wikipedia all the time. But so much new information is coming at me thick and fast I'm struggling to keep up. Having a library of Encyclopaedias I can trust, and can cite, has made this so much easier.

General Onefile

I started reading The Economist, Financial Times and The Times without needing a subscription. I've been particularly reading about Black Lives Matter. The Economist has a great article on it.

Second Year

Academic OneFile

When given an Essay topic, I use Topic finder to see different ways to approach the topic, and the content within Academic OneFile to do my research.

Gale Literary Sources

I'm doing a module on the Harlem Renaissance, and the biographies of key figures within the scene in Gale Literary Sources are really helping ground my understanding of the time.

Third Year

Archives Unbound

My module on the Harlem Renaissance got me interested in the struggle for Civil Rights, in particular the role the Federal government played. So that's what I'm doing my dissertation on. The FBI Files on key civil rights figures are fascinating and I'm using them all the time.

Gale Primary Sources

The Library already has some Gale content, and it cross-searches with Archives Unbound. It's fascinating seeing how British Newspapers are reacting to the events I'm studying for my dissertation.

Postgraduate

Archives Unbound

For my thesis, I'm really focusing on the Greensboro Massacre, and the federal response to it. The papers in Archives Unbound are the absolute backbone to this project, and I've saved so much time and money not needing to visit the original archive in America.

Academic Onefile

Having used the platform for years, it was a real thrill to see an article I wrote come up in the search results!

A CLOSER LOOK: HIGH QUALITY CONTENT

Empowering students and researchers to achieve superior learning and research outcomes, Gale Reference Complete offers affordable library subscription access to the most comprehensive set of unique, multidisciplinary and authoritative content available across key primary and secondary sources. Helping libraries battle their budget whilst maintaining quality and depth, Gale is offering its largest and best value single subscription package, powered by intuitive search tools designed for today's visual learner. This comprises:

Academic OneFile

Unlike alternative resources, Academic OneFile offers researchers 17,000 journals and the lowest number of embargoed titles including over 11,000 peer-reviewed and 8,000 full-text titles.

Reviewing current full text of The Economist (1988 to present), The New York Times (1985 to present) and the key newspapers of record such as The Times and The Financial Times, researchers can be confident of a comprehensive literature review alongside full-text periodicals of major bibliographic resources including CINAHL, BIOSIS, MLA, PsycINFO, ERIC, EconLit, RILM and modern primary sources such as podcasts and transcripts from NPR and CNN.

PRODUCT SPOTLIGHT The Economist

Accessing The Economist with no embargo, all users can read the global weekly analysis of economics, politics and social change the day it's published.

PRODUCT SPOTLIGHT The Financial Times

Revealing entirely new research, users can chart the daily impact of events on world economies and markets and track the fortunes of a single company or industry day by day.

General OneFile

General OneFile enables students to search by subject across a broad but curated list of general interest publications, supplementing knowledge gained from peer-reviewed journals with insights from mainstream press, trade and industry publications globally. Providing a solid base of general references, General OneFile offers users access to over 14,500 titles, 9,000 full-text and 3,700 peer reviewed journals, hundreds of newspapers including current content from National Public Radio programs (from 1990 to present) and links to thousands of videos from NYTimes.com and Associated Press.

InfoTrac Newsstand

InfoTrac Newsstand supplements the current full text newspaper content in Academic OneFile with close to 1200 national and regional newspaper titles (active and full-text) including Al Jazeera (Qatar), Bangkok Post, Gulf News and a wealth of local UK titles.

InfoTrac Newsstand keeps users informed with regular updates to 2,300 global newspapers, radio and TV broadcasts and transcripts.

Gale Virtual Reference Library

An award-winning eBook platform meeting student and researcher needs, this is the first complete package on offer including all of Gale reference guides such as the International Directory of Company Histories and acclaimed series such as:
